

Asian-Pacific Infection & Inflammation Research Interest Group
Meet Up 2025

Zebrafish tuberculosis modelling around the Pacific Rim

Tuesday, 25 March 2025

9:00 AM to 10:30 AM (SGT)

Registration required.

Please click here or scan QR code to register.

Dr Antonio J. Pagán

Assistant Professor

Department of Microbiology & Immunology, Stanford University School of Medicine

““Non-canonical” roles of autophagy-related proteins in anti-mycobacterial immunity”

Dr Yan Hua

Deputy Director,

*Shanghai Key Laboratory of Tuberculosis,
Shanghai Pulmonary Hospital,
Tongji University School of Medicine*

“New roles for taurine in promoting anti-tuberculosis immunity and therapy”

Ms Denise Wee

*Research Officer, A*STAR IDL*

“Primary tuberculous granulomas provide a niche for opportunistic superinfecting mycobacteria”

Hosted by: Dr Stefan Oehlers, A*STAR IDL & ZDMS I&I RIG Lead

Webinar is open to all. Registration is required.

Questions? Contact us at seminars@idlabs.a-star.edu.sg

Brought to you by A*STAR IDL